

ABSTRACT

Disclosed are oligonucleotides for manipulating an immune reaction. The oligonucleotides of the present invention may be useful to stimulate the immune
5 function, to treat the immune-related diseases and the atopic dermatitis, or to protect the normal immune cells.